Over the years in general conference, we have seen the presidents of the Church in their official capacity as they have taught and testified to the Saints. But there is another side of these men we don't often see— their day-to-day work, their humor, their trials, their uniqueness, and their love for family and friends.

In the Company of Prophets provides an inside look at the lives and personalities of seven presidents of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints: Heber J. Grant, George Albert Smith, David O. McKay, Joseph Fielding Smith, Harold B. Lee, Spencer W. Kimball, and Ezra Taft Benson, from the perspective of D. Arthur Haycock, who worked with them all.

Brother Haycock says of these leaders, "I've laughed with them, I've cried with them, I've prayed with them, I've traveled with them, I've worked at their side. I have great love and admiration for these men of God."

All who enjoy history and biography or who just want to know more about the lives of our latter-day leaders will be delighted with In the Company of Prophets. It provides a rare, insightful, personal, and inspirational look at seven servants of the Lord.
