A biography of Alice M. Jordan, who headed children's work at the Boston Public Library (BPL) from 1902 to 1940, is long overdue. Daughter of a Maine sea captain and a Massachusetts schoolteacher, she was one of the pioneering generation of children's librarians, women who entered the field when salaries were low, progressive ideals high, academic credentials spotty, and the drive to professionalization was revolutionizing librarianship and education. Modest and unassuming, high-school graduate Jordan worked effectively to improve educational opportunities for children and their librarians alike. She taught at the Simmons Library School, helped create the BPL Training School, founded the New England Round Table of Children's Librarians (NERTCL), and mentored Bertha Mahony Miller, founder of The Horn Book Magazine. She had a national reputation among children's book editors and librarians for her critical acumen, clear writing, and astute advice. Locally, she networked tirelessly with Boston educators, negotiated the placement of qualified children's librarians in all BPL branches, and trained a generation of gifted youth workers—all from a desk in the middle of a busy children's room. She left a legacy of high standards for children's reading, storytelling, and reference services.

This biography draws on archival materials including Jordan's correspondence with poet Louise Imogen Guiney and Horn Book editor Miller; BPL memos and reports; and 1979 interviews with Jordan trainees. It has shown her life and achievement in the context of social history, from late nineteenth-century women's economic opportunities to early twentieth-century developments in librarianship, especially at the BPL. Each chapter has a brief list of milestones in Jordan and U.S. history.

Joseph Robison:

As a college student, I exactly feel bored in order to read. If their teacher asked them to go to the library as well as to make a summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just little students that have reading's heart and soul or real their leisure activity. They just do what the teacher wants, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading really. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring and can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise, word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country.
